Globalise Resistance

globalise_resistance@yahoo.com

Defend the right to protest

The political establishment are cracking down on the right to protest. Last year, the manager of Dublin Corporation tried to introduce an effective ban on protest meetings in O'Connell Street but was defeated after hundreds of people turned up to defend their civil liberties.
Now a number of protest organisers are facing trials for breaches of the Public Order Act in another effort to prevent street protests.
It is vital that everyone who wants to defend our democratic rights mobilise to make their voices heard.

Court protests

MONDAY 21ST JANUARY

at Court 46 in Chancery St Protest outside the court from 1.45 onwards

Kieran Allen, member of the Steering Committee of the Irish Anti-War Movement faces serious charges simply for trying to organise a peaceful demonstration.

BURLINGTON 14:

MONDAY 21ST FEBRUARY

10:15am outside the old richmond hospital, north richmond st

Details of the arrests

- 2 members of the Steering Committee of the Irish Anti-War Movement who were arrested for organising a peaceful demonstration from the US to the British Embassy.
- 14 activists from Globalise Resistance who were baton charged by Gardai after they staged a protest outside a privatisation conference in the Burlington Hotel.
- 8 people arrested on car free day in Dublin city centre.
- 2 anti-war campaigners who protested at the presence of US troops in Shannon.
- 1 member of Globalise Resistance who joined a lobby at the Department of Justice calling for support for Irish activists who were jailed in Italy after the Genoa protests.